SELECTED HEADLINES

Local stocks continued to rise for a second consecutive session, starting the second month of the year on a strong note after the January volatility. A batch of promising trading statements from some South African companies and improving local economy's outlook in the short term has kept the market momentum strong. The benchmark All-Share index rose 0.79% to 74,889 points and the blue-chip Top 40 index ended up 0.82% to 68,375 points.

SENS ANNOUNCEMENTS

SELECTED RELEASES

ASTRAL FOODS LIMITED – General trading update

Astral's earnings per share ("EPS") and headline earnings per share ("HEPS") for the six months ending 31 March 2022 (the "Interim Period") are expected to be up by at least 100% on the comparative six-month period ended 31 March 2021 (the "Comparative Period"), where EPS of 592 cents per share and HEPS of 597 cents per share were reported. EPS will be at least 1 184 cents per share and HEPS will be at least 1 194 per share for the Interim Period. The Comparative Period's results were negatively impacted by Covid-19 related lockdowns impacting the South African economy, and resulting in constrained consumer spending. At the time, Astral's poultry operations could not recover significant increases in feed costs through the selling price of poultry products, resulting in a relatively low base against which the expected results for the Interim Period are compared. The performance during the first quarter of the 2022 financial year reflects an improvement in the Group's poultry margins. This recovery was achieved mainly through increased poultry sales volumes and improved net selling prices. The level of earnings experienced during the first quarter of 2022, is likely to continue through the second quarter of Astral's 2022 financial year, and should deliver the expected EPS and HEPS profiled above. The above information has not been reviewed or reported on by Astral's external auditor. A further trading statement will be released once reasonable certainty exists on the range of the increase in EPS and HEPS. It is expected that the results for the Interim Period will be published on SENS on or about 16 May 2022.

EUROPEAN MARKET COMMENTARY

SELECTED HEADLINES

European stocks closed higher on Tuesday as markets kicked off a new month of trading. The pan-European Stoxx 600 had climbed 1.1% by the close, with basic resources adding 3.3% to lead gains as almost all sectors and major bourses finished in positive territory. UBS on Tuesday reported a fall in quarterly profit, but beat analyst expectations and set ambitious new profitability targets as part of a strategic update.

AMERICAN MARKET COMMENTARY

SELECTED HEADLINES

U.S. stocks rose for a third day Tuesday, as Wall Street tried to recover its footing after a wild January. Bank stocks led the market higher, with Goldman Sachs and JPMorgan Chase gaining 2.6% and 1.7%, respectively. Wells Fargo also advanced more than 3.3%. Banks got a boost as the benchmark 10-year Treasury yield rose 2 basis points to break back above 1.8% at one point. That move came even after U.S. manufacturing data for January showed more signs of rising inflation.

Gold was steady this morning above the $1,800 psychological level as concerns surrounding Ukraine supported the safe-haven metal, while investors awaited U.S. jobs data that is considered key for the Federal Reserve's tapering timeline. Meanwhile, oil prices rose earlier today towards last week's seven-year highs after data showing a fall in U.S. crude stocks underlined solid demand, but investors remained cautious ahead of an OPEC+ meeting due later in the day.

The rand firmed on Tuesday, holding on to gains made in the previous session after the dollar fell as investors consolidated recent gains in the greenback. At the close of the session, the rand was 0.76% firmer as it traded around R15.25 to the dollar. The rand is recovering after last week's losses as bets for U.S. interest rate hikes increased on a hawkish shift by the Federal Reserve at a time when the South African Reserve Bank's forward guidance was seen less hawkish than market expectations.
